

MEDICAL TERMINOLOGIST (DUTCH)

WHO WE ARE WE

EarlyTracks is a startup-size company that develops innovative solutions to improve healthcare data management. Now that we have strong roots in the Belgian market, we plan on developing and deploying new products on the international scale.

Our vision is that medical records will be the fuel of a data-driven innovation in the healthcare sector. Given the current poor quality of these records, our mission is to improve the quality of medical records through the use of technology. Our main technological edges are in Natural Language Processing and Semantic technologies. Our technological roots are deep and we have frequent contact with university research centers.

Our office is located in Brussels (city center).
